

Big Data Architect Job Description

- Provide top-quality solution design and execution
- Provide support in defining the scope and sizing of work
- Align the organization's big data solutions with their Client initiatives as requested
- Engage with clients to understand strategic requirements
- Responsible for translating business requirements into technology solutions
- Work with domain experts to put together a delivery plan with and stay on track
- Utilize Big Data technologies to design, develop, and evolve scalable and fault-tolerant distributed components
- Organize all meetings with customers and ensure prompt resolution of gaps and roadblocks
- Stay current on latest technology to ensure maximum ROI for clients
- Responsible for the design and execution of abstractions and integration patterns (APIs) to solve complex distributed computing problems.