

Construction Laborer Job Description

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Clear the construction area and prepare it for the commencement of construction work
- Ensure that the construction site is safe for work by clearing hazardous chemicals and objects
- Safely pack and store work materials as directed by the site supervisor
- Responsible for mixing and pumping concrete, sand and grout
- Responsible for erecting and dismantling scaffolds and barricades
- Perform drilling and blasting duties and smooth rough surfaces
- May be required to read and interpret construction plans and designs
- Assist in the purchase, loading, and unloading of construction materials
- Assist in the purchase of minor construction materials like tap, binding wires, and twine
- Handle construction machines such as forklifts
- Repair and maintain construction tools and equipment
- Clear debris and tree stumps.

Construction Laborer Requirements – Skills, Knowledge, and Abilities

- Knowledge: A construction laborer must have good knowledge and understanding of construction plans and designs and how to handle tasks in a construction site
- Education: He/she may not be educated but the ability to understand written instructions is important. He/she must be willing and ready to learn new ways of handling construction tasks.
- Communication: He/she must be able to understand written and verbal instructions and must be willing to adhere to plans and directives.