

Environmental Graphic Designer Job Description

---

- Adequately planning for an assigned project and executing according to the specifications and requirements of clients
- Strictly adhering to design guidelines and standards to ensure quality
- Developing and/or creating two and three-dimensional graphics from blueprints, manual files, and digital files
- Developing maps, signs, logos, and other artworks by utilizing relevant software, as well as CAD
- Reviewing blueprints, renderings, and schematics to make well-informed and professional decisions on the most effective placement of signage
- Staying up-to-date with the latest development and trends in the environmental graphic design industry
- Previewing designs and giving suggestions and/or recommendations on improvement in consistency and quality
- Carrying out estimations on the cost and time required for the completion of a design project.