

Equity Trader Job Description

---

- Provide an accurate and timely information to the clients regarding their portfolios
- Work well on team basis as they need to manage the portfolio of clients' money
- Conduct research work so that they can give their clients the best financial advice. This is regarding which stocks they should invest in and which ones not
- Comply with all the investment related regulations related to the securities trading
- Maintain a track record of all the trades they do, so that they can protect their clients from any losses
- Work extra hard on holidays and weekends as well due to the demands of their clients
- Work on special occasions when there are any changes in the market trends
- Equity traders also have to work effectively and efficiently as they must provide accurate reports of their financial analysis. This is to help them make the best out of it whether it is profits or losses
- Monitor the investment portfolio of clients on a regular basis. This is to provide accurate information to clients and make sure that they are comfortable enough with their investments
- Responsible for the stocks that they buy and sell on the exchange, but also for their clients' stocks as well. This may include buying and selling in order to maintain a track record of all the trades.