

Hospital Graphic Designer Job Description

- Conceptualizing, designing, and producing curriculum training and/or promotional materials, which may include flyers, ads, brochures, logos, and office signage
- Coming up with design concepts that enhance doctor-patient relationship
- Consulting departments and faculties in the hospital to determine and identify their graphic needs
- Liaising with the management and staff to discuss and understand specific design project requirements
- Improving referrals and promoting branding and marketing
- Carrying out other miscellaneous job-related duties as required.