

Neurology Nurse Practitioner Job Description

Duties and Responsibilities:

- Record patient's medical information and vital signs in order to come up with an appropriate treatment plan
- Observe and report patients' medical conditions
- Render counselling services to patients and their families, thereby improving their awareness of health issues
- Perform specific lab tests, medical screening procedures, and monitoring neurological examination
- Interpret laboratory data accurately
- Follow up on a patient's medical condition and diagnostic test results, and report the required information to the physician
- Offer specialized pre and post-operative care to patients
- Conduct relevant research.

Neurology Nurse Practitioner Requirements – Skills, Knowledge, and Abilities

- Possess Diploma, Associate, or Bachelor's degree in Nursing
- Licensed according to the State's law
- Possess knowledge specific to the area of practice
- Exceptional ability to communicate with patients, families, and other staff
- Strong ability to quickly assess and decide on a course of action during emergencies
- Possess compassion and interpersonal skills to establish a good relationship with patients
- Ability to communicate and build relationships with members of a team
- Possess outstanding time management and organizational skills.