

Videographer Job Description

- Take instructions from directors and other technical personnel
- Work with physical and digital media for post-production, including photochemical film and videotape
- Provide creative input into the production and to solve technical problems
- Directly interact with actors and other performers on set, or in a sound-stage environment
- Work knowledgeably with cast and crew
- Design, develop, and implement lighting schemes for genre of genre of photography of which is being shot
- Express ideas clearly and concisely through creative verbal communication as well as in writing
- Orally communicate with others to convey a clear understanding of information or issues
- Interpret written or printed material such as scripts, reports, manuals, policies and procedures where the purpose is not obvious from its content
- Communicate information in a variety of forms through the use of modern technology
- Apply creativity to solve real-world challenges and manage a wide range of concrete variables in situations where only minimal standardization is available
- Meet deadlines without compromising quality or quantity of production
- Prioritize tasks no matter how minor they may seem and work independently.